Fund Manager's Report

The Fund declined -1.08% for the month, underperforming the absolute benchmark by -1.80%. At the country level, Malaysia, United States and Thailand were the underperformers. Meanwhile, Information Technology, Industrials and Energy were the sector detractors.

MSCI ASEAN index (USD terms) declined -0.32% in May and YTD flat at -0.02%. Outperformers were Philippines (+5.66%), Vietnam (+3.21%) and Indonesia (+1.10%), whilst Malaysia (-2.65%), Singapore (-0.97%) and Thailand (-0.64%) underperformed.

ASEAN and other EM countries faced a resurgence of COVID-19 cases, while the roll-out of vaccination is still being ramped up. Hence, movement control measures were re-tightened in Malaysia, Singapore and Vietnam. Earnings revision has been mixed. Countries that re-introduced movement control continue to see soft earnings. Meanwhile, banks and companies exposed to commodities reported stronger earnings.

ASEAN markets continue to see foreign outflows for the month except for Indonesia. Interestingly, Philippines, Malaysia and Indonesia started to see foreign inflows towards the end of the month. ASEAN currencies appreciated along China Renminbi against USD except for Malaysia Ringgit and Thai Baht due to the resurgence in COVID-19 cases. MSCI ASEAN is currently trading at 14.7x forward Price-to-Earnings Ratio which is slightly above the 10-year historical average of 13.6x. Earnings revision has flattened out. Meanwhile, in terms of P/BV, it is still trading below 10-year average.

We believe ASEAN equities will provide investors a combination of recovery plays and long-term structural themes. Hence, we have adopted a barbell approach of cyclicals and growth. As economic activities continue to improve and vaccine development progresses, we are increasingly more positive on cyclical sectors and stocks benefiting from reopening such as tourism-related. Cyclical sectors include financials, consumer, basic materials, energy, real estates. We continue to like structural growth themes of ASEAN e-commerce, Vietnam and technology & supply chain shift.

From a technical viewpoint, ASEAN has been under-performing North Asia since 2018 and we do think that 2021 will be a year where this asset class will shine simply because it is under-owned and foreign investor positioning is too underweight.
