KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the product and its dividends or coupons may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:	Refer to paragraphs 9.1 and 9.2 of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on risks of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to Stock Specific Risk Prices of a particular stock may fluctuate in response to the circumstances affecting individual companies such as adverse financial performance, news of a possible merger or loss of key personnel of a company. Any adverse price movements of such stock will adversely affect the Fund’s NAV. • You are exposed to Country Risk

Investments of the Fund in any countries may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which the Fund invests in. For example, the deteriorating economic condition of such countries may adversely affect the value of the investments undertaken by the Fund in those affected countries. This in turn may cause the NAV of the Fund or prices of units to fall. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> You are exposed to Currency Risks As the investments of the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund (i.e. USD), any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the USD and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. Investors should be aware that if the currencies in which the investments are denominated in depreciate against the USD, this will have an adverse effect on the NAV of the Fund and vice versa. Investors should also be aware that currency risk is applicable to Class(es) (e.g. Class SGD) which is in a different currency than the USD. The impact of the exchange rate movement between the USD and the currency denomination of the respective Class(es) may result in a depreciation of the value of your holdings as expressed in the currency denomination of the Class(es). As such, investors should realise that currency risk is considered as one of the major risks due to the volatile nature of the foreign exchange market. Where deemed necessary, the manager may utilise derivative instruments, subject to prevailing SC Guidelines, to hedge currency risk. Currently, the Manager does not seek to mitigate the currency risk and investors of the Fund should be prepared to assume the currency risk. You are exposed to Credit and Default Risks Investments of the Fund may involve a certain degree of credit and default risk. Generally, credit and default risk is the risk of loss due to the counterparty's and/or issuer's non-payment or untimely payment of the investment amount as well as the returns on investment. The Manager aims to mitigate this risk by performing fundamental credit research and analysis to determine the creditworthiness of its counterparties and/or issuers of securities invested into. You are exposed to Interest Rate Risks Interest rate risk refers to the impact of interest rate changes on the valuation of debt securities. When interest rates rise, debt securities prices generally decline and this may lower the market value of the Fund's investment in debt securities.
Liquidity Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Liquidity risk refers to the ease of liquidating an asset depending on the asset's volume traded in the market. If a security encounters a liquidity crunch, the security may need to be sold at unfavourable price. This in turn would depress the NAV of the Fund. Generally, all investments are subject to a certain degree of liquidity risk depending on the nature of the investment instruments, market, sector and other factors. The Fund is not listed and there is no secondary market for its Units. You can only redeem your investment on a Dealing Day. All redemption requests should be made to the Manager. The Manager may, with the approval of the Trustee, suspend the subscription, switching and redemption of Units during certain circumstances specified in the Singapore Prospectus and Principal Master Deed.
Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You are exposed to Emerging Markets Risk Investments in emerging markets may involve a higher degree of risk due to the greater possibility of political or economic instability and societal tensions. Emerging markets are markets that are, by definition, "in a state of transition" and are therefore exposed to rapid political change and economic declines. You are exposed to Derivatives Risk Subject to the Standards of Qualifying CIS and SC Guidelines, the Fund may invest in derivatives for purposes of hedging and it may be subject to risks associated with such investments. Investments in derivatives may require the deposit of initial margin and additional deposit of margin on short notice if the market moves against the investment positions. If no provision is made for the required margin within the prescribed time, the Fund's investments may be liquidated at a loss.
